NSX growth & unlocking success in Q2 2026

Welcome to The Quarter. With all the exciting things happening at NSX, now is the time to launch a regular communicate with the goals and achievements that are transforming NSX into Australia's leading alternative stock exchange for small and emerging companies.

Firstly, a recap on the two years since I began as CEO of NSX in June 2024. We have successfully implemented a strategy to transfer listings from ASX to NSX.

The process is straightforward and doesn't require a shareholder vote. Indeed, the four companies that have successfully made the move changed their listing and ASX ticker code to NSX overnight, with the shareholders retaining their CHESS HINs. We look forward to welcoming more in the coming months.

We have stabilised the share register and balance sheet of NSX. The takeover by CNSX Global Markets Inc was completed in November 2025 and we collaborate closely with our sister company, The Canadian Securities Exchange (CSE), across technology, finance, regulatory and marketing opportunities.

In the past quarter, we welcomed a new IPO in the form of Sentinel Exploration (NSX: SOX), which rang the listing bell in May. We have also made our first steps to launch the leading technology trading platform in Australia, signing with Aquis Exchange plc, and begun delivering our servers that will run the new market.

Finally, an organisation is only as good as the people who work there. In this respect NSX is blessed. We have an extraordinary team of senior and experienced stock exchange practitioners balanced with younger staff with a range of markets and academic backgrounds. There is a high level of excitement and commitment from the NSX team to build a new and vibrant market for small companies wanting to grow and for investors seeking to build wealth.

I look forward to updating you on NSX's progress each quarter.

Warm regards,

Max Cunningham

Managing Director and CEO
