Dear Sir

Cyclone Yasi

Cyclone emergency procedures were put in place by Queensland Sugar Ltd, the terminals operator, prior to the arrival of cyclone Yasi.

The Mackay and Bundaberg terminals were unaffected and very little damage was experienced at Cairns.

Terminals at Mourilyan and Townsville have suffered some damage but it is not major and should not take long for those terminals to resume normal operations.

At Lucinda, the workshop has suffered damage and there is other minor damage on the site. An initial visual inspection has revealed significant damage on the offshore conveyor gallery and wharf. This damage is presently being assessed by our insurer and engineers. A further announcement will be made when more details are known in relation to these matters after our investigations have fully progressed.

Yours faithfully
