CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

Dear Shareholder

This is the twelfth Prospectus issued by Capilano Honey Limited and replaces the Prospectus dated 14 October 2002.

The purposes of this Prospectus are to:

- permit Capilano to continue to accept deposits and issue Unsecured Notes; and
- permit the Company to issue shares to enable suppliers to comply with shareholding obligations in Honey Supply Agreements.

Capilano is an unlisted public company and its Constitution contains certain provisions which affect the manner in which Capilano shares can be bought and sold, including:

- .. restrictions on transfers of share ownership;
- .. a prohibition against any offering of shares for public subscription;
- .. a prohibition against Capilano shares being quoted or listed for sale on any stock exchange or in any other public manner.

A more detailed description of these restrictions on share transfers can be found in Section 9.2 of this Prospectus.

Capilano is now in its thirty fourth year since it became a public company. The Company's core business is the processing, packaging and marketing of honey and beeswax purchased from its shareholders.

Since incorporation there has been a requirement determined by the Board for each Supplier Shareholder to hold a number of shares in proportion to the number of hives of bees employed for honey production. At the date of this Prospectus, the shares to hives ratio is sixteen i.e. each shareholder with a Honey Supply Agreement is required to hold sixteen shares for each hive used for honey production. This ratio may change in the future.

The Company has paid a dividend on shares in every year since 1974. The dividend for any year takes into account the level of profit earned in that year and the importance of retaining a portion of after-tax profit. For the year ended 30 June 2003, the Directors declared a fully franked dividend of 20 cents per share.

Published accounts for 2002/03 reveal that the audited net asset backing for each Capilano share was $4.75 at 30 June 2003. The Directors cannot provide any guarantee of future profit, net asset backing, market price for shares, nor rate of dividend as these factors are influenced by many variables which may be outside the control of the Company.

An Exempt Stock Market is currently in place which allows the Company to facilitate share trading between existing shareholders without being in danger of breaching the Law. Due to legislative change, in March 2004 this stock market will cease. However, the Board intends to investigate and implement another method by which share trading can continue to take place.

Depositors wishing to deposit moneys in the Capilano Deposit Fund will be required to use the forms described in Section 7 of the Prospectus and attached at the back of this Prospectus. Persons wishing to acquire shares will be required to use the form at the back of the Prospectus. Existing shareholders and persons wishing to acquire shares or deposit funds are encouraged to read this Prospectus in full.

We welcome new Depositors, new shareholders and shareholders who are increasing their holdings and trust that Capilano will continue to serve their needs in the future.

Yours faithfully

D G Keith
Chairman

1 OVERVIEW

1.1 In Brief

Capilano Honey Limited was established in 1953 and has grown to be the largest honey processor in Australia. Its main objectives are to process, pack and market honey and wax purchased from its shareholders. Operating as an unlisted public company it has a restricted Constitution designed to preserve the co-operative style ownership of the Company.

1.2 Share Ownership Obligation and Share Trading

Share Ownership

Since incorporation, all Supplier Shareholders have been obliged to hold a number of shares determined by the number of hives used by the shareholder for honey production. The number of shares is determined by a shares-to-hives ratio established by resolution of the Directors from time to time, at their discretion.

At the date of this Prospectus, the shares-to-hives ratio is sixteen, which means that shareholders with Honey Supply Agreements are required to hold sixteen shares for each hive of bees employed for honey production. This ratio is not fixed and may be increased in the future.

Share Trading

The Constitution and Rules of Operation of the Company's Exempt Stock Market impose a number of restrictions on share trading designed to preserve the co-operative style ownership of the Company.

The Board has the discretion to refuse an application by any person to buy shares in the company. In exercising this discretion, the Board takes into account the interests of the Company and the welfare of all shareholders in general.

Use of Retains to acquire Shares

In certain circumstances the Board may exercise its discretion to allow Retains to be used to acquire shares issued pursuant to Rule 74 of the Constitution, and to acquire shares that become available for sale.

1.3 Exempt Stock Market

Following approval from ASIC and the Federal Treasurer, Capilano established an Exempt Stock Market in March 2000. This enables Capilano to facilitate trading in its Shares, whilst complying with the Law.

This market is operated by Capilano, pursuant to the market rules, which govern the way in which shares are to be traded. Capilano's auditors, Cranstoun & Hussein, act as market supervisor to ensure that the market is operated in accordance with the market rules, and ASIC requirements.

Due to legislative change, in March 2004 this stock market will cease. However, the Board intends to investigate and implement another method by which share trading can continue to take place.

1.4 Honey Supply Agreements

The Company may enter into Honey Supply Agreements and establish an annual supply quota with Supplier Shareholders. This quota is not transferable, but may be re-assigned by the Company where the bona fide sale of an apiary business has taken place subject to a satisfactory history of deliveries against quotas. A non-shareholder honey producer who wishes to purchase Capilano shares and supply honey to the Company may make application to the Company to enter into a Honey Supply Agreement and annual supply quota. Ownership of Capilano shares does not create a right to a Honey Supply Agreement or annual supply quota. For further details refer to Sections 3.2 and 9.3 of this Prospectus.

1.5 Share Issue

The Terms of the Constitution allow the Directors to issue shares to persons who have applied for and been issued with a Honey Supply Agreement. New shareholders need only be issued with one share to become parties to a Honey Supply Agreement, subject to the shareholder agreeing to acquire shares on the Exempt Stock Market to satisfy their Honey Supply Agreement obligations to own 1,600 shares for every 100 hives operated.

1.6 Capilano Deposit Fund - Unsecured Notes

This Prospectus enables shareholders, former shareholders, their families, staff members and close relatives and beekeeper associations, who are not existing depositors, to become depositors in the Capilano Deposit Fund. Deposits in the Capilano Deposit Fund are represented by Unsecured Notes, issued by the Company in accordance with the Trust Deed (please refer to Section 9.9 for full details of the Trust Deed). The total of deposits from shareholders and others has varied from time to time. As at 30 June 2003 the total of the Capilano Deposit Fund stood at $1,854,082.

Unsecured Notes issued pursuant to this Prospectus will not be transferable. For further details of the Capilano Deposit Fund please refer to Section 7.

1.7 Board of Directors

The Board currently consists of five non executive beekeeper Directors, two non-executive independent Directors, and the Managing Director. Refer to Sections 2.1 and 10.3 for additional information.

1.8 Risk Factors

Investment in the shares or unsecured notes of a company usually exposes an investor to the same array of business risks and other risks to which the company is itself exposed. Failure of a company and liquidation of its assets may result in shareholders or noteholders losing part or all of their investment.

Capilano's business is exposed to a variety of commercial and other risks all of which have some potential to affect the future profitability of the Company and to influence both dividends on shares and prices which the Company is able to pay shareholders for honey supplied. For further details refer to Section 6.

3.1 History of Capilano

Early in 1953 a small honey packing factory was set up on the site at Richlands, Brisbane, now occupied by Capilano's head office and the Brisbane packing and distribution centre. On 1 July 1958 the business was incorporated as a proprietary company called Capilano Apiaries Pty Limited, the founding members being J.C. (Tim) Smith, M.B.E. and his brother, the Late H.A. (Bert) Smith, and several other commercial apiarists.

In 1970 the name was changed to Capilano Apiaries Limited with the name Honey Corporation of Australia Limited being adopted in 1974. The Company's history, however, goes back to 1950, when the business of Capilano Apiaries was founded by Tim and Bert Smith, who began packing and selling their Capilano brand honey to grocery stores around Brisbane. The name "Capilano" has a nostalgic connection. The business was named after the Capilano district near Vancouver, Canada, the home town of Tim Smith's wife, Jill, whom he met while stationed in Canada as an RAAF flying instructor during World War II.

As business grew, more commercial apiarists joined the Company as shareholders and honey suppliers.

Interstate expansion and development of export markets followed as the Company continued to prosper and grow under the leadership of founder, Tim Smith, who served as Managing Director from formation until 1983 when he relinquished the Chief Executive's role and became Chairman of Directors until his retirement in 1987.

In 1968 a packing plant and distribution centre was established at St Marys near Sydney, New South Wales, followed by Maryborough, Victoria in 1974.

In 1974 an Agreement was signed between Capilano (then Honey Corporation of Australia Ltd) and PDS whereby Capilano commenced the packing and supply of "Allowrie" brand honey products to PDS. PDS became a shareholder in Capilano and closed its honey packing facilities in Sydney and Brisbane. A number of honey producers who had been suppliers to PDS also became shareholders in Capilano.

This long-standing relationship terminated in May 1995 when Capilano purchased the Allowrie honey business from its then current owner (Sunburst Regency Foods Pty Ltd, a subsidiary of National Foods Limited) and secured a licence in perpetuity to use the Allowrie trade mark for honey products. The trade mark is currently owned by Fonterra Finance Corporation Limited.

A major business expansion occurred in 1989 when Capilano purchased the Barnes honey brand from Farmers Union Foods Limited and secured a licence agreement to market the Farmers Union and Golden North brands.

In 1994 Capilano acquired the Anderson Honey brand from Henry Jones Foods.

In 1995 shareholders resolved to change the name of the Company to Capilano Honey Limited to reflect the wide recognition of the Capilano trade mark throughout Australia and many overseas markets. This change took effect on 1 March 1996. Honey Corporation of Australia Pty Ltd has been retained as a subsidiary company.

The redevelopment of the Brisbane factory was completed in June 1998, and its new high speed packing line and production equipment became fully operational in April 1999. The St Mary's plant was then closed.

In January 2000 Capilano acquired the honey business of Greens General Foods Pty Limited, and in November 2000 it acquired the honey business of Windsor Farm Foods Pty Ltd, including the Heather Creamed Honey, Glenrock and Honey Bear brands.

A wholly owned subsidiary, Medihoney Pty Ltd, was formed in February 2000 to commercialise the therapeutic wound care benefits demonstrated by some Leptospermum honeys. "Medihoney" is a registered trademark of Medihoney Pty Ltd.

In June 2003 Capilano announced the formation of a joint venture with HoneyMax s.a. of Argentina to sell quality controlled industrial honey from Argentina to customers throughout the world.

In July 2003 Capilano acquired a fifty percent interest in Capilano Labonté Inc, merging its North American sales operations with Canadian honey packer, Miel Labonté Inc. The merger is expected to substantially increase the Company's global reach, positioning it to meet overseas demand for high quality honey products.

3.2 Honey Supply Agreements

The Company's honey supply base is underpinned by Honey Supply Agreements with Supplier Shareholders. The Company enters into a Honey Supply Agreement and establishes an annual supply quota with these suppliers. The quota is not transferable, but it may be re-assigned by the Company where the bona fide sale of an apiary business has taken place subject to a satisfactory history of deliveries against quotas. A non-shareholder honey producer who wishes to purchase Capilano shares and supply honey to the Company may make application to the Company for a Honey Supply Agreement and annual supply quota. The Directors set, from time to time, the total quantity of quota available for allocation (the quota pool). Reviews of quotas and quantities of honey supplied by shareholders with Honey Supply Agreements are carried out periodically.

Honey Supply Agreements create an obligation upon each Supplier Shareholder to participate in the Retains system. The Retains system is separate and distinct from the Capilano Deposit Fund.

Ownership of Capilano shares does not create a right to a Honey Supply Agreement or annual supply quota.

Retains

Prior to July 2001 Retains deductions were made at the rate of 5% and were paid interest half yearly. Retains Interest is based on the Commonwealth Bank term deposit interest rates by adding a margin of 0.25% to the average of rates for standard term deposits of 60 months at the beginning and end of each 6 month period, and according to the average value of Retains upon which interest was calculated.

In September 2001, the Board resolved to cease Retains deductions from 1 October 2001 subject to review at the end of each financial year, and to return Retains deducted since 1 July 2001. Following further reviews, the Board has resolved to continue the suspension of retains deductions.

For further details refer Section 9.3.

3.3 Corporate Culture

Capilano's Corporate Culture aims to:

- recognise, aim for and encourage high ethical standards.
- encourage responsible and courteous relationships with and between staff, shareholders and all who have contact with the Company.
- have honey producer ownership and control embodied in the Constitution and reflected in honey price.
- achieve profitability through good planning funded by adequate profit retention.
- strengthen shareholder support by maintenance of the Company's co-operative nature where appropriate.
- provide adequately for employee well-being through appropriate remuneration and a safe and harmonious workplace.
- satisfy the expectations of customers and consumers through product quality, safety and innovation.
- protect shareholders and all stakeholders in the Company by implementing appropriate compliance procedures and corporate governance.

3.4 Ownership of Capilano's Shares

As at 30 June 2003, there were 5,132,163 shares on issue, held by 747 shareholders. Of these Shareholders, 514 were parties to Honey Supply Agreements.

3.5 Honey Supply

As at 30 June 2003, there were 514 Honey Supply Agreements in place between the Company and shareholders.

During the five years to 30 June 2003, approximately 93% of total honey purchased by the Company was supplied by shareholders.

Honey production and supply is dependent upon climatic variations and seasonal conditions and as a result the annual crop can vary considerably from year to year. The total quantities of honey purchased by the Company in the last five years are shown in the table below. Honey production, with the exception of 1999-2000, has been lower than usual because of unfavourable climatic conditions in much of eastern Australia. These continuing conditions, together with a world shortage of honey, led to increased competition for available supplies which limited the Company's purchases of Australian honey to 9,527 tonnes in 2002-03. To meet customer demand and to maintain stocks at minimum levels, a further 5,000 tonnes was imported, mainly from Argentina.

Honey Purchases by Capilano

Year	Honey Purchased (Tonnes)
1998-99	15,249
1999-00	16,844
2000-01	15,244
2001-02	13,818
2002-03	14,527

3.6 Business Structure

The Company's principal business activity is the processing, packaging and marketing of honey purchased from its shareholders. In the year ended 30 June 2003, the principal business activity generated 95.8% of total sales revenue.

Secondary business activities include:

- sales of unprocessed beeswax supplied by shareholders, mainly into export markets;
- packing and marketing of products other than honey including "Smith's" brand Golden Syrup and Glucose Syrup;
- accepting deposits from shareholders and others;
- the marketing of Medihoney therapeutic honey products.

Capilano has two business centres comprising honey packaging, warehousing and distribution functions located at Richlands, Queensland, and Maryborough, Victoria. Both locations are close to the main honey producing regions of eastern Australia and within reach of major domestic markets and shipping ports for exports. Operational management is regional and presently each business centre is responsible for the functions of:

- raw material (honey) intake;
- sourcing and purchase of other inputs;
- invoicing;
- production, warehousing and distribution;
- local administration.

The Capilano Corporate Head Office is located at the Richlands business centre and carries out the following centralised functions:

- marketing and sales management;
- export sales and administration;
- accounting, payroll and financial management;
- central computer system and data processing;
- research and development;
- share registry;
- Capilano Deposit Fund administration;
- corporate administration.

Brands and Trade Marks

The Company owns the trade marks and brands "Capilano", "Barnes" "Anderson Honey", "Glenrock" and "Heather" and holds a licence to use the "Allowrie" trade mark for honey products.

In accordance with relevant Accounting Standards the acquisition cost of brands and honey businesses are included in the Company's balance sheet as intangible assets and amortised over varying periods according to their expected useful lives.

Accounting Standards do not currently require the inclusion of a value for the Capilano brand in the Company's balance sheet. However, the Directors believe this brand is a major asset of the Company and has a substantial value.

Honey Marketing

Consumer honey products and industrial or bulk honey are marketed by Capilano in all Australian States and regularly exported to many other countries.

The Company's marketing strategies continue to focus on:

- maintaining Capilano brand as the national market leader;
- acquiring and/or developing other regional honey brands;
- expanding exports of value added consumer honey products;
- identifying new export market opportunities to achieve better prices for bulk export honey.

Capilano has a substantial domestic market share in both retail and industrial honey market segments.

Honey Exports

Since incorporation the Company has been an exporter of honey to various overseas markets. In recent years the Company has concentrated overseas marketing efforts in developing future markets for value added retail packed products.

The variable nature of honey production conditions can cause significant variations in crop size from year to year. In allocating honey stocks to marketing activities, preference is generally given to those products and markets which are principal long term profit earners for the business. These are:

- domestic market retail packed products;
- domestic industrial honey;
- export retail packed products.

The annual quantity available for export as bulk honey is therefore determined by the size of each year's crop and the quantities required to satisfy demand in the above three categories.

Figure 3 illustrates relative movements in total annual sales volume divided into domestic and export components for the five years to 30 June 2003.

The major exporters of bulk honey to world markets are China, Argentina and Mexico, while the major importing countries are Germany, USA, Japan and the United Kingdom.

It is estimated that Australia supplies only a small percentage of world honey trade and therefore has little opportunity to influence world price levels. Consequently, Capilano's bulk export sales are mostly contracted at prevailing world market price levels, although in some markets premiums may be obtainable.

The table below illustrates export volumes sold by Capilano for the five years ending June 2003.

Exports of Honey by Capilano
Year	Tonnes
1998-99	5826
1999-00	6196
2000-01	3606
2001-02	2891
2002-03	2,978

Figure 4 illustrates the range of variation in world market prices (US$ per tonne) for blending grade bulk honey during the five years to June 2003.

Honey Prices Paid to Shareholders

Under the terms of Honey Supply Agreements with Supplier Shareholders, the Company agrees to purchase an annual quota quantity at a price termed the Quota Price. This price is determined by the commercial value of various honey grades sold into different markets taking into account market conditions, bulk export volume and market prices, foreign exchange rates and the Company's profit objectives.

The Company may also purchase over-quota honey from shareholders at prices subject to negotiation between the shareholder and the Company.

The graph in Figure 5 illustrates, on a quarterly basis, movements in prices (average raw honey purchase prices) over an eleven year period from 1992 to 2003 for two different grades of honey. These prices include bonuses and premiums that have been paid.

Due to a shortage of supply and movements in world honey prices, prices for Australian honey have increased to record levels during the year ending 30 June 2003. However, the Board believes these record levels may not be sustainable in the long term.

The Company cannot give any guarantee concerning future purchase prices for raw honey supplied by shareholders.

Total Quality Management

The Company operates a total quality management program which requires that all honey purchased and sold must satisfy a number of defined quality standards. Routine sampling and testing of honey supplied by shareholders and others is undertaken as a part of the quality assurance function.

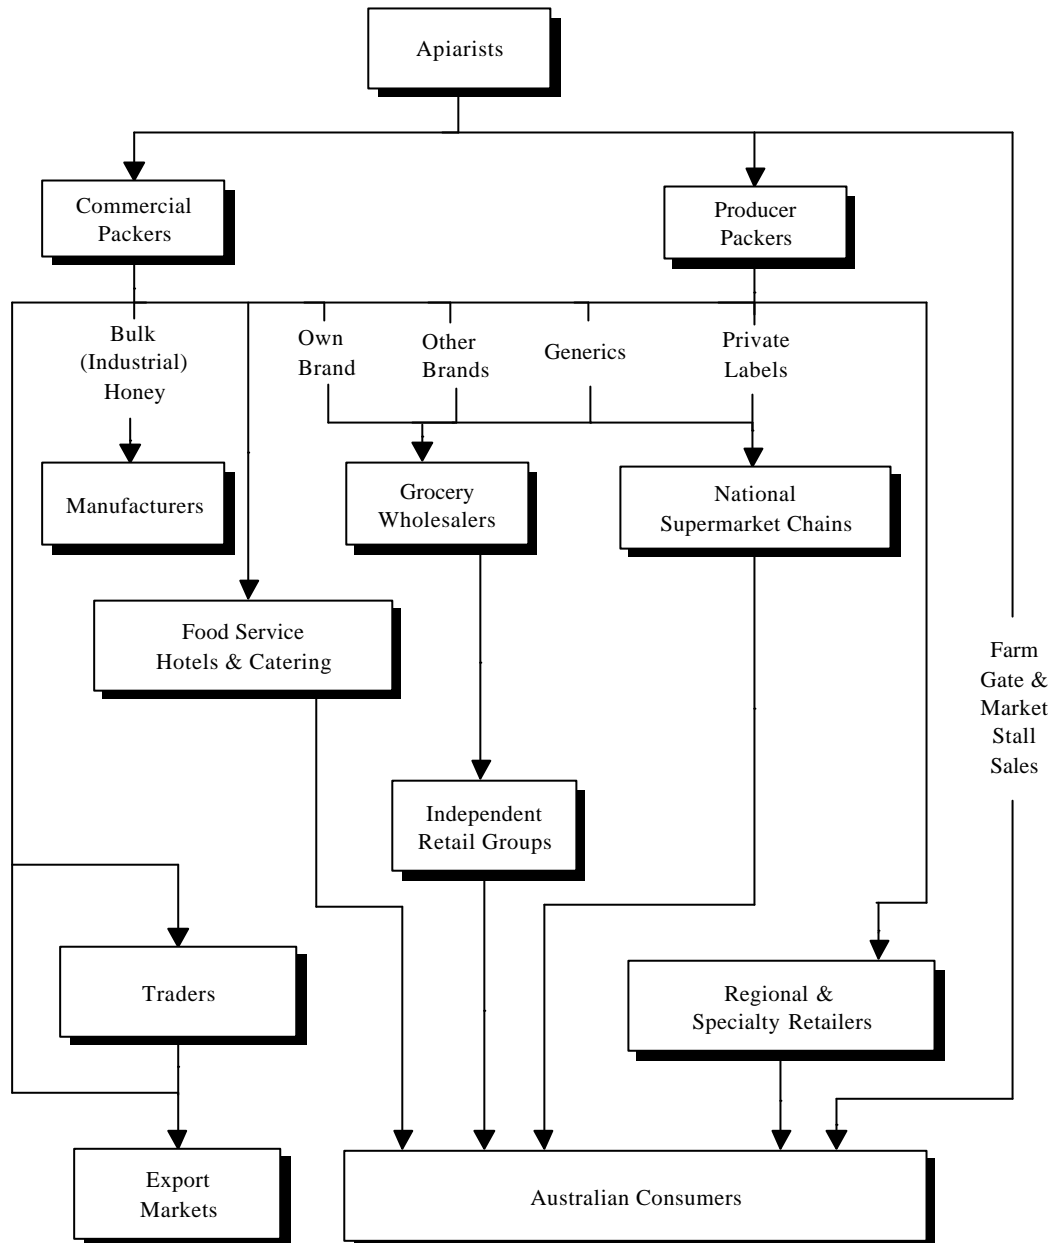

Capilano has a comprehensive, fully documented Quality Policy modelled on ISO 9002 and compliant with the Draft Food Hygiene Standard. During 2001 both company production sites became HACCP accredited. This accreditation also included WQMS (Woolworths Vendor Quality Management System), which means that Capilano meets the stringent quality standards of the major retailers.

In 1999, in conjunction with CSIRO, the Company published a document entitled "Reference Manual for Honey Extracting Facilities and Food Safety Program". Pursuant to this, audits are conducted on beekeeper's honey extracting facilities.

Since July 2000 Honey Supply Agreements have required Supplier Shareholders to comply with the requirements of this reference manual. All suppliers are required to complete a Vendor Declaration/Delivery Docket, which provides, among other things, floral source, residue status, and whether the honey has been sourced from a genetically modified crop.

The supply, marketing and distribution structure of the honey industry is illustrated below:

5.2 Review of 2002/2003 Year Results

The Company recorded a net profit after tax of $2.386million for the year ended 30 June 2003, being 42.4% higher than the previous year. Despite significant increases in the purchase price of honey, higher sales prices for domestic sales offset the increased honey costs and contributed to the increase in profit.

5.3 Annual Report

Details about the Company's financial position as at 30 June 2003 are contained in the Company's Annual Report. The Law requires that sufficient information be given in this Prospectus to persons interested in acquiring shares or lodging funds in the Capilano Deposit Fund to assist them to make an informed investment decision. This is satisfied only by reading this Prospectus and the Company's 2003 Annual Report in conjunction. In order, therefore, to be fully informed about the Company, parties reading this Prospectus should also refer to the material contained in the Company's 2003 Annual Report which includes:

- the audited concise financial report of the Company for the financial year ended 30 June 2003; and
- the Directors Statutory Report.

If you have not received a copy of the Company's 2003 Annual Report or otherwise require one please write to Capilano Honey Limited, at either PO Box 66, Richlands Qld 4077, fax on 07 3712 8287 or email honey@capilano.com.au and a copy will be forwarded to you free of charge. ASIC has advised the Company that if investors do not receive the Company's Annual Report within five days of making a request for it, investors may direct complaints to the regional office of ASIC in their State.

6 BUSINESS AND INVESTMENT RISKS

Investment in the shares or unsecured notes of a company usually exposes an investor to the same array of business risks and other risks to which the company is itself exposed. Failure of a company and liquidation of its assets may result in shareholders or noteholders losing part or all of their investment.

Capilano's business is exposed to a variety of commercial and other risks, all of which have some potential to affect the future profitability of the Company and to influence both dividends on shares and prices which the Company is able to pay shareholders for honey supplied.

Product Concentration

Capilano derives substantial strength from the concentration of its management resources in the packing and marketing of honey supplied by its shareholders, and relies on this activity for a significant proportion of its profitability. Any event or circumstance which reduces the supply or demand for honey in Australia or overseas, or restricts Capilano's access to markets may have a material effect on the profitability of the Company.

Market Concentration

The retail grocery market in Australia is dominated by a small number of powerful groups, who between them, account for the majority of annual retail grocery sales. The consequent concentration of buying power can be a disadvantage to Capilano.

Price Competition

Price competition is common and often aggressive at both wholesale and retail levels of the domestic market. In the generic and house brand retail product market and the industrial honey market, competition is almost exclusively on a tendered price basis, and consequently, margins are often low.

Product Contamination

Adverse publicity resulting from product contamination or malicious tampering could have serious consequences for the Company and the industry as a whole through reduced demand for honey. Any residues of chemicals or other unnatural substances in local or overseas honey could restrict the markets in which such honey could be sold or render the honey unacceptable to consumers in any market. Contamination could result in a product recall at considerable cost to the Company and threat to future business.

Low Barriers to Entry

Australia's annual honey production usually exceeds domestic demand and much of the surplus is exported onto the world commodity market, often at unattractive prices. Consequently, there is usually an adequate supply of surplus honey available to potential new entrants to the domestic market.

Industrial Action

The Company has a good record of harmonious relationships with employees and unions, and has entered into enterprise agreements with factory employees at both packing plants. However, industrial action such as strikes, black bans, or secondary boycotts, whether originating in the Company's workforce or elsewhere, could disrupt business and adversely affect results.

Government Action

Economic, regulatory or taxation policies of government in Australia and protectionist policies and other actions by governments in countries where Capilano exports are sold may influence future profitability.

Consumer Perceptions

Australian consumers traditionally regard honey as a natural, healthy food product. However, it should be recognised that changes in lifestyles and eating habits could affect future demand.

Bulk Export Sales

With the exception of the 2002/2003 year, the total annual quantity of honey supplied to the Company has generally exceeded the quantity required to satisfy demand for domestic market retail products and industrial honey and value added retail packed exports. Consequently, Capilano has been a consistent exporter of bulk honey onto the world commodity honey market. During the past five years, annual bulk honey exports have varied between 1,290 tonnes and 4,834 tonnes, with an average of 2,828 tonnes.

The net value in Australian dollars of bulk honey exports is subject to wide variations resulting from movements in export market prices (usually quoted in US dollars) and the exchange rate value of the Australian dollar against the US dollar and other currencies.

Variations in price, exchange rates and market conditions are outside the control of the Company and can have a significant effect on profits and prices paid for honey purchased.

Overseas Conditions

Any outbreak of hostilities, may have an effect on global economic conditions (in addition to the Company's direct export performance.) This may have an adverse effect on the Company's financial performance.

In doing so, the Company has adopted ASIC Class Order 00/174 "Debenture Prospectuses: Updating of Interest Rates and Term Information", issued on 15 February 2000. In adopting the ASIC Instrument, the Company has declined to specify the interest rates in the Deposit Application Form and Deposit Form accompanying this Prospectus. (Refer to Section 7.5 for full particulars of the provisions relating to variation of interest rates).

Interest Payments - At Call Deposits - interest is paid or credited at the end of each calendar quarter or on redemption. Fixed Term Deposits - interest is paid or credited three monthly or on redemption. (For full details refer to Section 7.8).

Maximum Value of Deposits - The Directors have determined that the maximum total value of deposits in the Capilano Deposit Fund will be $4 million.

Gearing - If the maximum value of deposits under Prospectus No.11 had been reached at 30 June 2003 (i.e. $4 million) Total External Liabilities (as defined in Section 9.9) would have been equal to 64.31% of Total Tangible Assets (as defined in Section 9.9) based on the balance sheet of the Company as at that date.

Maximum Gearing - The Trust Deed prohibits Capilano from accepting deposits or undertaking borrowings which would result in Total External Liabilities exceeding an amount equal to 75% of Total Tangible Assets.

Credit Rating - Capilano and its securities are not rated by a recognised credit rating authority.

The Trustee - The Trustee for Depositors is Trust Company of Australia Limited. The Trustee does not guarantee the repayment of the Unsecured Notes offered under this Prospectus, the interest thereon, or any particular rate of return or performance by Capilano of its obligations under the Trust Deed. The sole involvement of Trust Company of Australia Limited has been reviewing the text under the heading "Capilano Deposit Fund - Unsecured Notes" in Section 1.6 and this Section 7 and under the heading "Trust Deed" in Section 9.9 of the Prospectus to satisfy itself that the text is consistent with the terms of the Unsecured Notes or debentures (if issued) or with the relevant Trust Deed.

7.3 Borrowing Limitations

Details of the provisions in the Trust Deed relating to borrowing limitations are set out in Section 9.9.

7.4 Nature of Deposits

Deposits will be represented by Unsecured Notes issued under the terms of the Trust Deed. The Trust Deed and the Law define the main obligations of the Trustee. Other obligations may arise under general law.

The Trust Deed requires the Company to furnish to the Trustee half yearly financial statements, annual auditors' reports and quarterly Directors' certificates and reports and is required by the Trust Deed to make punctual payment to the Depositors of all principal and interest falling due in respect of their deposits. The Trustee is bound to comply with the duties imposed on it by the Law and to exercise reasonable diligence to ascertain from material furnished to it under the Trust Deed whether or not the Company or any guarantor has committed a breach of any of the covenants, obligations, conditions or provisions relating to the Unsecured Notes or contained in or imposed by the Trust Deed. The Trustee represents the Depositors in dealings with the Company and determines whether to enforce and, if appropriate, does enforce on behalf of all Depositors the Company's obligations in respect of the Unsecured Notes.

The Depositors have the benefit of a Trustee to represent them collectively.

Depositors may not individually proceed against the Company if the Trustee has determined to take action on behalf of them all.

In the case of winding up of Capilano, Unsecured Notes will rank (apart from any priorities created by law) equally with amounts owing to all other unsecured creditors of the Company but before distributions to shareholders.

The Trust Deed prohibits the Company from issuing Unsecured Notes or creating any other liabilities which would result in Total External Liabilities exceeding an amount equal to 75% of Total Tangible Assets. (Refer to Section 9.9).

Unsecured Notes are not transferable, but on the death of a noteholder the notes may be transmitted to the legal personal representative of the noteholder.

7.5 Variation of Interest Rates

The Company reserves the right to increase or decrease on a monthly basis, during the currency of this Prospectus, all or any of the rates of interest on the Unsecured Notes offered by this Prospectus. In doing so the Company has adopted ASIC Class Order 00/174 "Debenture Prospectus: Updating of Interest Rate and Term Information" issued on 15 February 2000.

In adopting the Instrument, the Company has declined to specify the interest rates in the Deposit Application Form or Deposit Form accompanying this Prospectus on the following conditions:

1. That details of interest rates for the following month will be determined by the end of each month and may be obtained by contacting the Company by telephone (07) 3712 8282, fax (07) 3712 8286 or e-mail honey@capilano.com.au. In addition, the most current details of rates will accompany Capilano's Shareholder Newsletter and each copy of the Prospectus.
2. The Company hereby undertakes that if the Deposit Application Form or Deposit Form specifies:
 - a) no interest rate; or
 - b) an interest rate which differs from the interest rate currently offered by the Company for Unsecured Notes of that term and which is not acceptable to the Company.
 the Company will:
 - c) return the deposit moneys to the Depositor in full, without interest, within 14 days of lodgement; or

- d) (i) forthwith issue an Unsecured Note to the Depositor for the term specified in the Deposit Application Form or Deposit Form at the rate which it currently offers for Unsecured Notes of that term;
- (ii) notify the Depositor that the Unsecured Note so issued will be redeemed if the Depositor gives notice to the Company requiring it to be redeemed within 14 days after the Depositor receives the notification; and
- (iii) on receipt of a notice requiring the Unsecured Notes to be redeemed pay to the Depositor an amount equal to the deposit and interest at the rate applicable to the Unsecured Note calculated from the date on which the Deposit Application Form or Deposit Form was accepted to the date on which the redemption money is sent; or
- e) at its option, return the money as set out in paragraph (c) or follow the procedure set out in paragraph (d).

7.6 Acceptance of Deposits

The Company will acknowledge in writing acceptance of all deposits within one month of lodgement.

The Company reserves the absolute right to refuse any application for Unsecured Notes either in whole or in part.

The Company reserves the right to deduct from principal or interest any taxes or duties applicable to Unsecured Notes issued under this Prospectus, including those arising from receiving the application money, repaying such money or paying interest thereon which the Company has or shall become liable to reimburse to its bankers or pay under any legislation.

7.7 Register

The Register of Depositors will be maintained at the registered office of Capilano.

7.8 Interest

Interest is calculated daily from the date of acceptance of a new deposit, or transfer of an existing deposit into the Capilano Deposit Fund. Interest is to accrue until the due date for payment thereof or in the event of default until paid or the deposit is redeemed.

Depositors are asked on the Deposit Application Form and the Deposit Form to advise the Company of the following alternative interest instructions:

- Interest to be reinvested; or
- Interest to be paid by cheque or EFT.

For at call deposits, interest will be calculated daily, and credited to current balances, or paid by cheque or EFT to the Depositor as requested, after the end of each calendar quarter, (i.e. at the end of March, June, September and December).

For all term deposits, interest will be calculated daily, and credited to current balances, or paid by cheque or EFT to the Depositor as requested, at the expiry of each three monthly period beginning at the end of the month in which the deposit is made.

7.9 Oversubscriptions

The Directors have determined that the maximum total value of deposits in the Capilano Deposit Fund will be $4 million in order to ensure compliance with the unsecured borrowing limitation created by the Trust Deed (Section 9.9 of this Prospectus).

Any deposits which, if accepted, would result in the total value of deposits in the Capilano Deposit Fund exceeding the limit of $4 million will be returned to Depositors within 14 days without interest.

7.10 Maturing Deposits

In the case of term deposits the Company will mail to Depositors a notice of imminent maturity approximately two weeks before the date on which the deposits will mature, seeking further instructions.

If no instruction is received as to the disposal of the deposit by the date of maturity it will be automatically matured from that date. The principal will remain at 24 hour call until further instructions are received, and interest will be treated according to previous instructions (i.e. added to principal or paid by cheque or EFT). The interest rate applicable to the 24 hour call deposit will be the rate applying from time to time.

7.11 Rights of Early Redemption of Fixed Term Unsecured Notes

The Company will consider written requests from Depositors faced with unforeseen or exceptional circumstances of hardship for repayment of their deposits prior to maturity. Any decision by the Company will depend upon the circumstances involved and will be at the sole discretion of the Company.

In the event of death of a sole investor, the Company (subject to legislative requirements) will repay to his estate the whole or any part of the deceased's deposits.

A reduced interest rate reflecting the shorter term may apply to the amount repaid in these cases.

7.12 Interest Cover

Interest paid on borrowings for the year ended 30 June 2003 was $1,137,531. Sufficient profit was made before payment of tax and interest to cover interest payment of 4.64 times, that is to say for every $1 of interest payable Capilano had $4.64 available.

Directors are confident sufficient profit will be made in 2003-04 to cover payment of interest.

9 SIGNIFICANT DOCUMENTS AND MATERIAL INFORMATION

The Directors are of the opinion that certain agreements and associated information are significant to this Prospectus or may be relevant to potential purchasers of shares and Depositors in Capilano.

9.1 Inspection of Significant Documents

A copy of each of the agreements (subject, as described below, to confidentiality obligations and matters of commercial sensitivity) and associated information, the Constitution, and the Consents referred to in Section 10.1 will be available for inspection without charge between 9.00a.m. and 5.00p.m. at the office of Capilano, 399 Archerfield Road, Richlands Q 4077, for a period of thirteen months after the date of lodgement of this Prospectus with ASIC. The Directors have deleted some confidential information from the material contract referred to in Section 9.5, which in their view would be immaterial to an investment decision. The information censored is, in the Directors' opinion, confidential and as a result its disclosure to the public may unreasonably prejudice the business of the Company.

In the opinion of the Directors, the information removed from material contracts is not information that investors and their professional advisers would reasonably require, and reasonably expect to find in this Prospectus, for the purpose of making an informed assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profit and loss, and prospects of Capilano.

9.2 Constitution

Restriction on shareholdings

No person shall hold or be entitled to or be beneficially interested in more than 10% of the issued capital of the Company (described as 'Rule 10 Restriction'). The Directors shall decline to register any transfer of shares if such transfer would result in the transferee being entitled to more than 10% of the issued capital. The Directors may also refuse to register more than 3 persons as the joint holders of any shares except in the case of executors or trustees of a deceased holder.

Every instrument of transfer and application for transmission of shares in the Company shall, if so required by the Directors, be accompanied by a statutory declaration. The statutory declaration must be in the form prescribed by the Directors, made by the transferee, or by an authorised officer in the case of a corporation, and contain such particulars as may be required as being necessary to prevent a breach of the Rule 10 Restriction. This information may include:

- (a) whether the transferee will hold the shares beneficially. If not, who will have the beneficial interest in the shares; and
- (b) whether the transferee will alone control the right to vote attaching to the shares. If not, who will control the right to vote attaching/attached to the shares.

In addition to the statutory declaration above, the Directors may, either before or after approving/rejecting a transfer, by notice in writing require a further statutory declaration to be provided. This statutory declaration shall contain such additional information requested which the Directors consider may assist their determinations as to whether there will be a breach of the Rule 10 Restriction.

The Directors may in their absolute discretion, and without the obligation to advance any reason for such refusal, decline to register any transfer of any shares to any transferee:

- (a) who has failed to furnish the requested statutory declaration; or
- (b) if the Directors are of the opinion that the transfer could result in a breach of the Rule 10 Restriction.

If the Directors refuse to register a transfer of any shares they shall within 2 months after the date on which the transfer was lodged with the Company send the transferee notice of the refusal.

Similar rules regarding statutory declarations apply in relation to the continued holding of all, or any of the shares held by, on behalf of, or in relation to a shareholder which might result in a breach of the Rule 10 Restriction. If the Directors consider that the continued holding of any of the shares held could result in a breach of the restriction, the Directors may, by a transfer notice, require that the excess number of shares be disposed of. If the requirements of such transfer notice are not complied with to the satisfaction of the Directors within the time specified, the Directors may cause such shares to be sold by a person nominated by the Directors and the sale price shall be the best price obtainable within a reasonable time after the shares are offered for sale.

Upon the giving of a transfer notice, the shares shall (if they are voting shares) cease to carry any right to vote at any general meeting of the Company until such shares have been disposed of and are duly registered in the name of the purchaser. The entry of the name of any purchaser of shares in the register in respect of any of the above shares shall be final and binding.

In the event that a shareholder holds more than a 10% shareholding through beneficial ownership, the chairman (for voting purposes) can declare that the shareholder, and the persons entitled to vote on the portion of shares held beneficially for the shareholder, are limited to voting as if their aggregate shareholding is 10%.

Transfer of shares

The Directors may in their absolute discretion refuse to register any proposed transfer of shares without the obligation to advance any reason whatsoever for such refusal. The Directors may impose terms to be observed and complied with by the transferor and/or the transferee as a condition precedent to the registration of the proposed transfer.

If the Directors refuse to register a transfer of any shares they shall within 2 months after the date on which the transfer was lodged with the Company send to the transferee notice of the refusal.

Alteration of capital

In most cases, all new shares of a particular class shall, before issue, be offered to such persons whom as at the date of the offer are entitled to receive notices from the Company of general meetings. The offer of new shares shall be made in proportion to the amount of existing shares to which the persons are entitled for that class. The offer shall be made by notice, specifying the number of shares offered, and limiting a time within which the offer, if not accepted, will be deemed to be declined. After the expiration of that time, or on the receipt of an intimation from the person to whom the offer is made that he declines to accept the shares offered, the Directors may dispose of those shares in such manner as they think most beneficial to the Company.

The Directors have the power to issue shares at any time to shareholders for the exclusive purpose of enabling them to comply with their shareholding obligations under Honey Supply Agreements, and at the Directors' discretion to other persons who have successfully applied for Honey Supply Agreements. Directors may also, at their discretion, issue shares to a new supplier coincidental with the signing of a new Honey Supply Agreement.

Calls on Shares

The Directors may from time to time make calls upon the shareholders in respect of any money unpaid on their shares and each shareholder (upon receiving at least 14 days notice specifying the time and place of payment) must pay to the Company the amount called on the shares.

A beekeeper director is defined as a person who is a party to a Honey Supply Agreement with the Company on the first occasion of his election as a director. A person appointed as an independent director shall be appointed on the basis that he possesses skills appropriate to the Company's needs but provided however that such person shall not be an employee, honey supplier or customer of the Company whilst occupying the position of independent director.

Independent Directors may be appointed by all Directors in office acting jointly. Each independent director so appointed shall hold office for a fixed period of 2 years and at the expiration of that period may be re-appointed or replaced or the position left vacant at the discretion of the other Directors.

Independent Directors appointed in accordance with this rule shall not be subject to retirement by rotation nor taken into account in determining rotational retirement of other Directors. At every annual general meeting, 2 of the beekeeper Directors shall retire from office provided that no beekeeper director who has served less than 2 years in office since his last election shall be required to retire except as provided in the constitution.

The Company may by ordinary resolution remove any director before the expiration of his period of office, and may in the case of a beekeeper director by an ordinary resolution appoint another person in his stead. The person so appointed shall be subject to retirement at the same time as if he had become a director on the day on which the director in whose place he is appointed was last elected a director.

The shareholding qualification for Directors may be fixed by the Company in general meeting, and unless and until so fixed shall be one share. The office of a director shall become vacant at the conclusion of the annual general meeting commencing next after he attains the age of 70 years and he shall not be eligible for re-election.

The Directors may from time to time appoint a person to the office of managing director for such period and on such terms as they think fit, and subject to the terms of any agreement entered into in any particular case, may revoke any such appointment. A director so appointed shall not, while holding that office, be subject to retirement by rotation or be taken into account in determining the rotation of retirement of Directors, but his appointment shall be automatically terminated if he ceases to be a director.

The total amount of Directors' fees payable shall from time to time be determined by the Company in general meeting and shall be divided amongst Directors at their discretion. Directors' fees shall be deemed to accrue from day to day. The Directors may from time to time determine that a dividend is payable to the members. A person who has been a member during any financial years ending on 30 June for which a dividend is fixed for payment shall be entitled to be paid a dividend. In the case of shares bought, sold or cancelled during the year, dividend entitlements in respect of those shares shall be calculated proportionally in accordance with the number of days in the year for which the shares were held.

The Directors may from time to time pay to the members such interim dividends as appear to the Directors to be justified by the profits of the Company.

9.3 Honey Supply Agreement

The main purposes of this agreement are to provide Capilano with an assured supply of honey in varieties, grades and quality to satisfy demands of its customers and to provide shareholders with the security of a reliable buyer for honey.

Under this agreement, the Company agrees to purchase and the shareholder agrees to supply its annual quota provided such honey can be sold by the company on the Australian domestic and/or export market, and such honey complies with quality standards established by law or by Capilano.

Neither party will be in breach of its obligations under this agreement where it is prevented from buying or selling, or producing and supplying the honey (as applicable) through any cause beyond the parties' reasonable control.

Prices to be paid by Capilano for honey supplied in any year up to the annual quota shall be at prices determined from time to time by the company taking into account the selling prices obtainable on the domestic and export market, and the proportions of various grades of honey expected to be sold into each market. These prices are subject to change without prior notice and Capilano will inform a shareholder in writing of any changes as and when they occur.

The shareholder agrees not to purchase or otherwise acquire honey from any other person for supply to the company. The total amount of honey required by the Company ('Quota') shall be fixed by the Board and reviewed annually and any portions of annual Quota relinquished by or withdrawn from shareholders may be reassigned at the discretion of Directors. The company may agree to purchase from a shareholder any quantity of honey in excess of that shareholders' annual Quota at a price agreed prior to delivery.

The shareholder is required to declare at the date of execution of the agreement, the number of productive hives used to produce honey for supply under the agreement. The shareholder agrees to inform Capilano in writing if any future change in the ownership of hives from which honey is supplied. The shareholder agrees to purchase and hold shares in the company in accordance with the shares to hives ratio determined from time to time by the company.

Delivery of honey shall be in accordance with this agreement, which includes being accompanied by the relevant documentation, in containers of such materials type and size as specified, and comply with weight requirements and on arrival shall be sampled at Capilano's factory, and such details be included in a monthly statement to shareholders.

Delivery of honey in excess of a shareholders monthly delivery quantity shall not be made without prior approval by the company. Title to and ownership of the honey shall pass to the company on delivery to a company factory or depot.

The shareholder agrees to support Capilano's quality assurance policy, which has the objective of ensuring that the Company's products and services always fulfil the expectations of those who purchase or use them. The shareholder warrants that all honey supplied shall be natural honey, and shall be produced, extracted and stored in accordance with guidelines contained in the Company's 'Reference Manual for Honey Extracting Facilities and Food Safety Program', and any additional quality standards notified by the Company. The shareholder agrees to co-operate in a quality audit if requested.

The shareholder agrees that an amount not exceeding 5% of the amount payable by the company for honey supplied can be deducted from each payment to shareholders and retained by the company for not longer than 5 years commencing at the end of each financial year in which deductions were made. These sums constitute a loan by the shareholder to the company, on which interest may be paid at a rate decided by the Directors of the company. These loans are recorded in a monthly statement together with interest and accumulative balance of the amount of retains held to the shareholders account.

Capilano can reject or buy at a reduced price honey which does not comply with prescribed quality standards. At its election Capilano may require that rejected honey be retrieved by the shareholder at the shareholder's expense. In the event the honey is contaminated or breaches a food regulation or health standard, it may be destroyed at the direction of a regulatory authority. The shareholder may be required to pay for the costs of destruction.

Capilano agrees to accept delivery up to a maximum of 8 drums in any one month from shareholders with annual quotas of not more than 21,240kgs provided that not more than one third of annual quota is delivered in any period of 3 consecutive months. The agreement is to continue until terminated by 28 days written notice from either party.

This section should be read in conjunction with Section 9.4.

9.4 Honey Quota

Capilano reviews the total quota issued on an annual basis for the purpose of:

- d) facilitating the entry of new suppliers who wish to become contracted shareholders.

Quota Categories

Applications for quotas in these categories are considered at an annual review in July/August of each year. All contracted shareholders are subject to an annual quota review, however, no reduction in quota is made without prior discussion and negotiation.

Contract shareholders seeking an increased quota

To participate in future allocation of quota from the quota pool, a shareholder will need to hold sufficient shares to meet the correct shares to hives ratio - the current ratio being 16 shares per hive, and/or undertake to purchase additional shares, have filled their existing quota consistently over a 3 year period, be able to demonstrate an ability to fill an increased quota allocation and satisfy the quality conditions of their Honey Supply Agreement.

Contracted shareholders expanding their operations

To participate in future allocation of quota from the quota pool, a shareholder will need to hold sufficient shares to meet the correct shares to hives ratio and/or undertake to purchase additional shares and provide evidence of an ability to supply to the level of quota allocated.

Suppliers applying for an initial quota

Applicants seeking Board approval for an initial quota are required to complete a Share Application form, Honey Quota Application form and Quality Assurance Questionnaire. Approved applicants are issued one share at the current Net Asset Backing on receipt of a signed Honey Supply Agreement, wherein they agree to undertake to purchase additional shares to meet the correct shares to hives ratio and satisfy the required quality conditions.

Payment for shares

To comply with the shares-to-hives ratio, additional shares may be purchased on the Company's Exempt Stock Market or by issue of shares by the Company.

Shares issued by the Company may be paid by any one, or any combination, of (as agreed) a nominated percentage or amount from each honey delivery; Retains, Retains Interest; dividends on shares; and cash.

10.4 Income Tax & Dividend Policy

The Company has for many years been treated as a co-operative company for the purpose of the Tax Act. In this regard it has paid tax as a co-operative company.

The Company's Constitution prescribes that Directors may from time to time determine that a dividend is payable to the members. Directors also have power to pay interim dividends.

In determining dividends, the Directors take into account:

- the importance of retaining a portion of profits to provide funds for operations and to provide for future growth; and
- the intention to pay dividends which will reward shareholders for their investment in the Company.

Directors have acknowledged that compliance with the requirements of the Tax Act to retain the Company's status as a co-operative for income tax purposes is unlikely to be maintained under current honey supply conditions.

Accordingly, for the period during which the Company is unlikely to qualify, dividends will not be available as a tax deduction and after tax profit will be reduced.

The Minister for Revenue and Assistant Treasurer has announced that new rules for the treatment of distributions by co-operative companies will allow them to frank dividends paid after 1 July, 2002. As at 30 June 2003 the Company has an accumulated franking account balance of $3,045,871 based on company income tax paid, which can be used to frank dividends.

For the period during which the Company does not qualify as a co-operative a tax deduction under Section 120(1)(c) of the Tax Act will not be available for repayments of money borrowed from a government agency for the purposes of acquiring assets necessary for the conduct of the business.

A person who has been a member during any financial year ending on 30 June for which a dividend is declared shall be entitled to be paid a dividend. In the case of shares bought, sold or cancelled during the year dividend entitlement in respect of those shares shall be calculated proportionally in accordance with the number of days in the year for which the shares were held.

Profits retained by the Company after payment of dividends and after taking into account other adjustments will usually be subject to income tax.

No undertaking regarding future dividends is given in this Prospectus.

In doing so the Company has adopted ASIC Class Order 00/174 "Debenture Prospectus: Updating of Interest Rate and Term Information" issued on 15 February 2000.

 - c) return the deposit moneys to the Depositor in full, without interest, within 14 days of lodgement; or
 - d)
 - (i) forthwith issue an Unsecured Note to the Depositor for the term specified in the Deposit Application Form or Deposit Form at the rate which it currently offers for Unsecured Notes of that term;

MATURITY DATES OF TERM DEPOSITS - All term deposits will be accepted on the basis that they are repayable on the first working day after the end of the month in which they mature e.g. a deposit lodged on 3rd October for a term of three months will be repayable on 1st February.
