Dear Mr Coats

Re: Suspension of Living Cell Technology Limited

Living Cell Technology have formally applied to the NSX to delist. The reason is that they have successfully applied to the ASX to list and the ASX have approved quotation pending finalization of documentation from the Company.

The NSX has been advised by the ASX that the expected date of listing on the ASX will be 1st September. Consequently, the company will remain suspended on the NSX until close of business 31st August 2004. The ASX have advised that the CHESS sub-register has also been suspended.

The NSX following Listing and Business rules apply:

Listing Rule	Section 1 Rule 2.25
Business Rule	Part C Rule 86
Pre-Open	As the company is delisting there will be no pre-open
End of Suspension	As the company is delisting there will be no ending of the suspension.

The suspension is enforce to maintain an orderly transition of LCT to ASX and to prevent a possibility of a false market arising while the company completes ASX procedures.

Yours Sincerely

Scott Evans
General Manager
